

SHAMROCK V IS TOO HEAVY TO BEAT DEFENDER

Her Wooden Mast Weighs A Ton and A Quarter More Than Hollow Metal Bar of Vanderbilt Sloop

By TOM HORGAN (Associated Press Staff Writer.) NEWPORT, R. I.—(AP)—Put a fat old man on Man O War and Earl Sande on a claiming pater and the latter probably will win. These you have the story on Enterprise's two victories over Shamrock V, Sir Thomas Lipton's fifth challenger for the America's cup, and there also is the reason virtually everyone who knows anything about racing yachts expects Enterprise to take her third victory today.

It is simply that Sir Thomas' green-hulled challenger is carrying too much weight. Her wooden mast is shorter than that of Enterprise but it weighs a ton and a quarter more than the towering hollow metal bar of Harold Vanderbilt's defender.

The Vanderbilt sloop carries a hollow boom, larger as dimensions go, but it weighs 1200 pounds less than Shamrock's. Shamrock was built to Lloyd's scantlings and as a capable cruising craft, for she had to cross the ocean on her own bottom and under her own sail to meet the conditions of the contest.

Her interior fittings, berths, galley and other crew equipment, weighed 7500 pounds. All that material was removed after the arrival in these waters and she was allowed to take aboard ballast to correspond, but that ballast must be carried in-board, whereas Enterprise's designer was in a position to place that tonnage some ten feet lower, on the defender's keel, where it is far more efficient in maintaining the stability of a sailing craft.

What wonder then Shamrock's crew were discouraged as they prepared the old Irish sportsman's fifth hope of recovering the famous trophy for the starting line today. They were hoping that a good brisk breeze might favor the green sloop, but those who saw Enterprise run away from Westwood, the unsuccessful Morgan-Nichols candidate for the defense, in a good blow, believed it a for-orn hope.

To life the cup, Shamrock V now must take four out of five races and Enterprise needs only

YESTERDAY'S STARS

By The Associated Press
Douthit, Cardinals—Singles in tenth to drive in run that beat Robins, 1-0.
Rinbell, Giants—Let Cubs down with three hits, struck out ten, and bled them 7-0.
Klein, Phillies—Drove in four runs against Pirates with two singles and 34th home run.
Grove and Shores, Athletics—Pitched champions to double victory over White Sox.
Alexander, Tigers—Pair of singles drove in four runs against Red Sox.

Phillies Nose Out Pirates In Tenth

PHILADELPHIA—The Phillies nosed out the Pirates yesterday, 15 to 14, in a wild and woolly 10-inning struggle. After the Pirates had scored four runs in the 10th inning, the Phils came back to score five in their half and clinched the victory.

In the eighth inning Chick Thompson engineered a triple play. Paul Waner and Grantham were on first and second when Traynor hit a line drive which Thompson speared with his gloved hand, touched second doubling Paul Waner and then threw to Sherlock, who nipped Grantham for the triple play. Klein hit his 34th home run of the season.

two more victories to retain for America the world's sailing championship. Shamrock's crew and her after-guard, although none wishes their names in the public prints, now admit that conditions prevailing on the open ocean cup course are not those under which Shamrock established a reputation for fast sailing on the other side of the Atlantic. Over there the breeze was steady and dependable and the sea smooth. The waters nine miles off Brenton Reef Lightship are disturbed by all manner of tidal currents and ground swells, and the wind frequently is fluky and not to be depended on to blow from any one quarter of the compass. The unruly sea and the ground swell has proved unpleasant to Shamrock. Her bow has not lifted to the heave of the sea, but has dived through it, and when a boat does that she loses way.

CORNELL GRID OUTLOOK BEST IN MANY YEARS

Fortunes Of Big Red Team Destined For Change This Season — Much New Material On Hand

ITHACA, (AP)—The fortunes of the big Red team of Cornell, clouded for years by lack of play-ers and interest, are rising steadily as fine incoming material brings back visions of the days when Kay and Pfann and Cassidy ruled the football roost.

It still is too early to challenge the familiar pessimism of Gilmour Doble, rampant even in the defeat-laden era of 1921-23, but the start Cornell gained last season whipping Princeton and Columbia and losing in the final seconds to Dartmouth, seems certain to carry farther this fall. By graduation, the Ithacans lost half a backfield and all-American tackle, Sam Wake-man, but veterans left and newcomers from the sophomore ranks promise to offset the absences.

Doble rarely has trouble fashioning a husky line and prospects this fall are better than usual a sensational sophomore, Abe George of Ithaca will try to fill Wake-man's shoes. Chris Martinez is back in the other tackle berth, four veteran ends are on hand, and a pair of hold-over centers, G. O. Wallace of Bedford, O., and H. J. Reikert, of Richmond Hill, N. Y., will be available.

Captain Hunt was one of the best guards in the country last season and Doble has a choice of several veterans for the other guard post. For every position in the line there are eager sophomores who starred on the fine freshman eleven of last fall. Heaviest hit by graduation in the backfield, Doble finds some of his strongest newcomers there. He has a brilliant young sophomore in Bart Viviano to take over the fullback berth left vacant by Norman Scott, and Joe Kamich, Eddie Smith of Ithaca, W. C. Beall from Chicago, R. H. Bey-er and E. Lipinsky, both of Buf-falo and L. Nieman of Brook-lyn, all sophomores, are contenders for Howard Johnson's back-field post. Flashy Bob Stevens, last season's triple-threat, Les Hand-lerman, G. H. Cornish and Mauritz Johnson are dependable veterans.

As in the past the Cornell season consists of four big games. Opening with Clarkson Sept. 27, then Niagara Oct. 4 and Hamilton Sep-tember Oct. 11, the Big Red squad tackles Princeton at Princeton Oct. 18, Columbia at New York Nov. 1, Dartmouth Nov. 15, and Pennsylv-ania Nov. 27 with Hobart as a sort of breather on Nov. 8.

Doe Forecasts Long Fall And A Very Short Winter; Hears About Rain Machine

A short winter is ahead. So says Frankie Doe, just like that. After having his hands full with an unusual summer, Frankie has turned to the tasks of fall and winter predictions, both of which have proved hard to juggle for the best of forecasters in the last two years.

A peep into the yellowed pages of his grandfather's 42 year old weather chart comes as a blow to coal dealers. For Doe has seen what everyone is hoping for, a short winter season and no extreme weather.

"The fall will be long and late. Winter will be short," predicts Doe.

"October will be warm. The weather will be good."

Doe points out that creeks and wells are now dried up as he predicted they would be; that his forecasts are running far ahead of the forecasts of the government men and he is hitting the bulls eye so consistently that even his critics have given in and paid him tribute.

Frankie gave no sign he was concerned over the rain making machine which has come into vogue downstate. The machine by shooting electricity into the air is able to bring on rain or drive it away as the operator wills accord- ing to news reports.

"All I know about it, is what I've read," said Frankie, "but it sounds all wet to me."

HARD SCHEDULE FACES S. L. U. GRID WARRIORS

Team Undergoing Heavy Work Outs For Game With Colgate—First Tilt With Alfred College

CANTON.—With only ten days remaining before the Colgate game to be played at Hamilton, St. Lawrence university's gridiron war-riors are undergoing heavy work- outs each afternoon at Weekes' athletic field here.

With a tough schedule ahead of them, which includes five games on opponent's home fields the Larry veterans, augmented by new ma- terial from last year's freshmen class are fast being developed into one of the best teams that has ever represented St. Lawrence on a football field.

Coach Sullivan has 12 of last year's regulars to fill the births of the Scarlet machine, as well as several youngsters who demonstrated a good brand of foot- ball with the fresh team last year. Perrine and Coughlin, both of whom worked the wing positions last year are out again, as are Shoen and "Red" Stickle, two of the cleverest tackles in the con- ference. Cray and Grant will un- doubtedly retain their positions as guards, while Ted Slott, a soph- more, and Frank Gordon, a veteran member of the squad are working hard for the pivot position.

Three of last year's half backs are considered likely material for the quarterback berth left open by the graduation of Captain Galvin. They are "Ken" Percy, Hogan and "Tommy" Kuuz. Amo and Schu- maker, both of whom won their letters in '29 as half backs have developed into mid-season form and will probably complete the back field line-up, together with Captain Roy Wickens.

The first home game this year will be played at Weekes' field on the afternoon of October 4 against the Alfred college eleven. Preced- ing the varsity contest, the Scarlet first workout today under Coach Ronald T. Burkman, will meet the Morrisville Argie college team.

HEART ATTACK IS FATAL TO WILLIS GOKEY

Life Long Resident of South Hammond Dies Suddenly Tuesday While Working In the Barn

(Exclusive Dispatch)
HAMMOND.—The death of Wil- lis N. Gokey, 67, of South Ham- mond, occurred at his home on the state road Tuesday afternoon at 4. Death was due to heart trou- ble.

Mr. Gokey had been in his usual health years was doing his chores when he was stricken. After giving one of his horses a drink, he sud- denly collapsed and, before any- one could reach him, died.

The deceased was one of the best known residents of this vicin- ity, having resided here all his life. He was born at Oak Point, a son of Lewis and Mary Brandy Gokey. Mr. Gokey was a lifelong member of the Methodist Episco- pal church, of Hammond, and for many years was one of the stew- ards of the church. He was a mem- ber of Hammond Lodge, No. 861.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Genevieve Cook Gokey; a son, Dr. Harold Gokey, a prominent physi- cian, of Alexandria Bay; and two sisters, Mrs. Edith Reynolds, of Adams, and Mrs. Lucy Gregor, of Hammond.

The funeral will be conducted Thursday afternoon at 2 from the home with Rev. John MacLachan, of the Methodist Episcopal church of Hammond, officiating. The re- mains will be placed in the vault of the Hammond cemetery, pend- ing the completion of the new mausoleum which is being built at the Rarick cemetery at South Hammond.

Arrangements were in charge of Undertaker Earl G. Eustis of Ham- mond.

O'BRIEN WINS CASE AGAINST F. J. GAMIDGE

CANTON—A verdict of $150 for Ernest O'Brien, manager of the Utica Hardware and Supply com- pany at Ogdensburg was returned in supreme court here late yester- day afternoon following O'Brien's civil action brought against Fred- erick J. Gamache, Ogdensburg, his shipping clerk, to recover for in- juries he received when Gamache gave him a beating following an altercation in the office on July 17, this year.

According to O'Brien, who was represented by Attorney C. A. Mur- phy of Potsdam, the defendant hit him ten times in the face and about the head after he had dis- charged Gamache. O'Brien testified that he went to the shipping de- partment to find out if Gamache had placed tags on some merchan- dise which was to be shipped out. Gamache had not done so, and O'Brien told him to hand in his key and stay away for a week and that perhaps he could have his job back if he would learn to carry out his employer's orders. It was alleged that Gamache then struck him, with resultant injuries to O'Brien's eyes and nose.

Gamache, in his defense, claim- ed that O'Brien called him names and dared him to strike him. He asserted that on several previous occasions, O'Brien likewise al- leged that he was the focus of a stream of profanity just before the fight started. He swore that he did not strike a blow or make any attempt to retaliate. He also claims that after Gamache had struck him six or seven times, he asked him why he didn't strike him again. Accord- ing to his testimony, Gamache ac- commodated him.

The only other witness for the plaintiff was Carl Clary, assistant shipping clerk at the hardware store, who was an eye-witness of the fight. Clary reiterated O'Brien's testimony. Attorney Edmund Fitz- Gerald of Ogdensburg represented Gamache.

FLINT RHEM FALLS FROM WATER WAGON

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—Flint Rhem whose sturdy right arm has played an important part in the St. Louis Cardinals' drive pennant- ward, has fallen from the water wagon, but he told Manager Gab- by Street the fall was forced up- on him by "two armed men."

Rhem, today's Globe-Democrat says in a story from a staff cor- respondent, returned to the Car- dinals' hotel in New York late last night, after being missed for 24 hours, and reported to Street two armed men forced him to accom- pany them to a roadhouse Monday night and then poured liquor down him all that night and yesterday. Releasing him near the Cardinals' hotel last night, he said, the men warned him not to pitch against Brooklyn.

"Street listened like a kindly father," the story says, "but it was evident the Cardinal manager placed no faith in it."

Rhem, who has won his last six starts on the mound, was to have pitched against Brooklyn at Brook- lyn today, but Street announced he had switched to the big Swede, Sylvester Johnson, and that he would follow Thursday with Bur- leigh Grimes.
